

Cinder Puts Out Eye; 24-Year Fight in Court Results.

CHICAGO—A cinder that put out the eye of a man here twenty-four years ago again is the subject of litigation in the Chicago courts. In 1916 the offending coal speck blew from the smokestack of the Crane Company's manufacturing plant into the eye of Paul J. Stammers, a mormon, causing a loss of sight in the optics. Stammers started a damage suit and got a verdict of $7,500. The State Supreme Court reversed and remanded the case. Twice more it was tried, the jury disagreed each time as to a verdict. Then seven years after the finding of the first suit, Stammers died. Now the suit has been reinstated by John J. Stammers, a brother and executor of his estate.

RAIN HELPS THE WINTER WHEAT CROP

TIMES BUREAU AT STATE CAPITAL
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 4.—Many fields of winter wheat, which would have been plowed up will be spared as a result of the rainy weather, according to the Indiana weekly crop report issued today by George C. Bryant, field agent of the department of agriculture. This almost abandoned wheat has taken on new life under the very favorable weather conditions for this crop. The report follows:

"Plowing on sandy and other light soils was resumed during the latter part of last week, but it was most too wet for seeding until the last day or two. Plowing for corn has been further delayed by heavy rains. Dugout land is very wet although nearly all rivers and creeks are now within their banks.

"But little spring wheat has been planted and it is now too late. The acreage will not be more than 22 per cent of last year.

"Considerable oats has been planted in the mud by broadcasting, expecting to get in later with disk or harrow to cover them. The acreage is very much short of expectations in the central part of the state while the southern section has a larger acreage than usual.

"Barley acreage will be short of last year because of unfavorable weather conditions. Rye is looking exceptionally good and has made considerably more growth than wheat.
